

ABOUT THE COURSE

The Shennecossett Golf Course continues to offer golfers of all playing abilities a scenic and challenging place to play golf. There are fantastic views of the Thames River and the Long Island Sound looking from the 16th and 17th holes, and at any time, one might see the U.S.C.G.C. Eagle or a nuclear submarine navigating the waterways.

The course is extremely rich in history; founded in 1898, the course was originally a four-hole layout. Over the next 18 years, the course was enlarged to a six, nine, eleven, and eventually eighteen-hole track. Then, in 1916, famed golf course architect Donald Ross redesigned the course layout (one of only five courses in the State of Connecticut that he designed), and in 1919, he rerouted three of the holes to complete his work. The course remained this way until 1997, in which a land swap with Pfizer gave the course the property to build three holes overlooking the water.

Shennecossett continues to host premier Connecticut golf events, such as the Connecticut Senior Open, and furthers its reputation as one of the best public golf courses in the state. In September of 2007 Shennecossett was featured in Golf Magazine as one of the "Thrifty Fifty" (view article) in the United States; best public access courses that one can play for under $50. Shennecossett was featured in The Best of Northeast Golf 2007 Reader's Choices as one of the best overall conditioned courses and best overall courses.

COMMUNITY SERVICE FOUNDATION

Through the Rotary Community Service Awards Foundation, we bring together community service agencies and the businesses and organizations that support them, formally acknowledge their amazing contributions and showcase some of the wonderful work being done in our community.

Groton Rotary Club provides grants to several community non-profit groups each year along with dispersing several thousand dollars in scholarship awards to three area High Schools and Three Rivers Community College.

The main objective of Rotary is service — in the community, in the workplace, and throughout the world. Rotarians develop community service projects that address many of today's most critical issues, such as children at risk, poverty and hunger, the environment, illiteracy, and violence. They also support programs for youth, educational opportunities and international exchanges for students, teachers, and other professionals, and vocational and career development. Rotary motto is Service Above Self.
